The Federal Register—that daily report about proposed, new and revised programs and policies of federal agencies—has published some good news for consumers.

Seventeen federal departments and agencies announced Consumer Representation Programs to enhance each consumer's representation, access and participation in federal decision-making.

In all there are 113 pages of the Federal Register devoted to the new programs.

Many of the programs are identical, or almost identical, for each of the departments and agencies. Other parts of the programs are tailored to the circumstances of individual agencies.

Church Women United to host luncheon Thursday

A "representative luncheon" will be hosted by the Quad-City Church Women United (CWWU) at 12 noon on Thursday at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, designed to enroll more organizations and volunteer workers for its baby layette project. It was announced today by co-chairmen, Mrs. Judy Russell and Mrs. Ellen Whitt.

The luncheon is open to the public and any resident or club representative is invited to attend, the chairmen added.

Mrs. Ellen Ehler and Mrs. Jeanne Beatty serve as co-chairmen of the program and with the aid of volunteers pack a box of selected infant wear to be given to needy expectant mothers.

Included in the gift is blankets, two dozen diapers, shirts, plastic pants, gowns, socks, sweaters and a Bible. Blankets and dressing gowns are made by area women, who are members of church groups, clubs or individual volunteers. The chairmen reported the cost of diapers is $7.50 and the sponsoring group have already donated $91 for the diapers.

Mrs. Margie Pennell, president of CWWU, said there is a real need for donations to the layette program to purchase articles of infant clothing which are not donated. Many church organizations in this area hold baby showers at meetings and donate the gifts to this particular project, she added.

The program works through several agencies in the Quad-City area and any needy mother may complete a referral application at Social Services, Salvation Army and Coordinated Youth Services to receive a layette, Mrs. Pennell advised.

Faculty bargaining issue to be studied by board

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University will examine at its April meeting whether it should modify its present policy on faculty collective bargaining.

Current policy is to await General Assembly approval of a faculty collective bargaining law before would cover academic employees before engaging in such a relationship with faculty. What are some typical consequences of such a policy when there is significant faculty sentiment to engage in collective bargaining?

1) What are the most important factors to be considered by the Board of Trustees in a reexamination of its current policy on collective bargaining?

2) How should these factors (the three above) be examined?

3) In establishing collective bargaining for faculty, what matters should the board reserve for decision itself? On what matters should the board involve constituency groups?

4) Should the board simultaneously consider collective bargaining for administrative employees?

5) Would it be advisable for the Board of Trustees to sponsor a referendum on the faculty's wishes regarding collective bargaining prior to changing its policy?

6) What is the relationship between existing and long-standing personnel practices and policies and the collective bargaining process? Are all policies negotiated with each collective bargaining agreement?

7) What legal and practical limitations are imposed on the Board of Trustees with regard to the collective bargaining process? For example, may the board delegate certain decisions to an arbitrator? Are there subject areas in the private sector that cannot be bargained in the public sector?

8) What would your advice be regarding the scope of bargaining units? Is a single unit of faculty preferable or should units be established in terms of geographic, academic rank, professional or other criteria? If multiple units are established, what is the probability of "whipsawing"?

9) What are the separate guidelines governing the collective bargaining process be developed for each campus?

10) What limitations, if any, would be imposed on the Board of Trustees with respect to exclusive representation? What special consideration would be necessary regarding conscientious objectors?

11) What clause of membership clause be enforced in the absence of statutory authority?

12) How might the Salary and Annuity Withholding Act affect this question?

13) What role, if any, should be played by students and non-academic employees in the development of guidelines governing collective bargaining process?

14) What should be the composition of the group to be charged by the board with the development of specific guidelines for collective bargaining?

15) Should the board itself or

NEWS NOTES
To help break the 182-ballot deadlock in selection of an Illinois Senate president, Gov. James R. Thompson intends to keep the senators in around-the-clock deliberations starting tomorrow. Although in control 58-42, Democrats have been unable to muster 30 votes for any individual since being sworn in Jan. 12.

The Nevada Assembly on Friday rejected the Equal Rights Amendment 24-15, three days after senators of that state had approved it. Thirty-five of the 38 needed states have ratified the women's rights proposal and three of the 35 later voted to rescind their ratifications; the legality of the reversals is still untested.

The SIU board approved 6-1 Thursday hiring former State Rep. Clyde L. Choate (D, Carbondale) as SIUC external affairs director. New SIU Chairman Harris Rowe said SIUC President Warren Brandt handled the hiring and announcement badly. Four of the seven trustees were notified of the plan.

A campaign led by Sen. Adlai Stevenson has been partly successful, reducing Senate committees from 31 to 25 and subcommittees from 140 while limiting to 11 the number of committees on which a senator may serve at one time.

Army Secretary Clifford L. Alexander Jr. said Saturday he agrees with the view of House Armed Services Chairman Melvin Price that the present volunteer program is operating satisfactorily and the inductions need not be resumed.

North Follies are Thursday

"The President and the Peanut" is one of eight skits in the Granite City High School North Follies to be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday in the South auditorium.

Over 200 freshmen and sophomore students of the speech department, under the direction of Dr. Gene Michaeloff, will present skits, each introduced by an emcee.

Admission is $1 for students and $1.25 for adults. Tickets may be purchased from oral communication students or from the main office at Granite City High School North. Doors will open at 7:15 p.m. and there is no reserve seating.

Student activity tickets cannot be used for this program.

The theme will be "Famous Storybook Characters." Audio-visual students supervised by Ralph Mangan will video tape the follies. The tapes are used in classrooms for study and evaluation.

The follies are presented in the fall and spring semesters by the students of F. Gordon Mueller, Wayne A. Hubbard and Dr. Michaeloff.

"Follies" is a three-week drama unit in the oral communication course.

The program initiates students to all aspects of theater production of original skits, including script writing, acting, scenery construction and painting, costume, makeup, sound lighting and theater management.

The program is continuous with each skit a student original.

Advanced speech students work stage crew assignments and handle technical aspects of the show.

Titles of the skits are: "Alice in Wonderland," "Winnie the Pooh," where all the animals are debating about who shall be elected as president; "Old Woman in a Shoe," who has many problems rearing children in a shoe; "The Wizard of Boozie," where Dorothy meets the Wizard and finds happiness; "The Elves and the Shoemaker," in which the shoemaker and his wife have a good turn of luck when they are invaded by magical elves; "Pinocchio" tries to become a live boy; "The Gingerbread Man" becomes "bionic" and saves the day when he battles the diabolical cookie snatchers; "The President and the Peanut" is a telecast of a new sensitivity test for presidential candidates.

Career scholarships available for women

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its February dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Officers' Club at the Granite City Armory Installation, Mrs. Sylvia Wright, president, announced today.

The program will focus on the "BWP Foundation" and feature the Miss Linda Wetton, winner of the club's Young Careerist Contest, and Mrs. Judith McCann, the successful contestant in the Individual Development Program.

Mrs. Wright said those attending are being asked to dress in the costume of a foreign country in observance of International Women's Week.

Mrs. Louise Smith, Foundation chairman for the Granite City Business Women's Club, said the National Federation of Business and Professional Women is a "very good source of aid to women of the area who are interested in career advancement."

She said about 425 scholarships are awarded each year in three areas: Vocational, computer technology, electrical and mechanical training, etc.; Secretarial-Business — court reporter, bookkeeping, etc.; and Paraprofessional — medical and dental assistants, therapy, legal aides, etc.

The BWP Foundation Career Advancement Scholarship Program was established for women who need some training to obtain a better job or to return to the job market, Mrs. Smith explained.

Training may be full or part-time at any accredited school, but should not be a longtime program and must be in a field which offers good employment and advancement opportunities.

Women applying for scholarships are required to be at least 25 years of age, a U.S. citizen, have a financial need and definite plans to use the training in a practical manner, Mrs. Smith said.

Any working woman interested in applying for a grant is invited to contact Mrs. Smith at 877-2468, or attend Wednesday's dinner meeting by calling the chairman for a reservation.

Garden program

Homeowners in Madison County will attend a "garden day" program Wednesday at the Farm Bureau auditorium in Edwardsville.

The program will offer a choice of four different topics. From 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., those present can choose between the topics of "Grow Your Own Groceries," which covers vegetable garden cultural tips, and "Flower Gardening," which covers starting plants indoors and planning and raising a flower garden.

From 2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., program participants may attend a second session to attend. The choice is "Vegetable Garden Pest Control," pest control from an organic as well as a chemical aspect, or "Let's Talk About House Plants," which covers growing good house plants, dividing plants and house plant pest control.

For persons unable to attend the afternoon sessions, two programs will be offered in the evening from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. One session will be on "Vegetable Gardening" and the second will cover "Gardening in Containers."

The session on gardening in containers will cover raising house plants from start to finish plus dividing house plants, and the management of ferns, cacti, hanging baskets and foliage.

Each program is two hours in length, so the program participants must choose between the two sessions.

Wesley Siefert, area extension vocational center at Collinsville, will present the sessions on flower gardening and house plants. Chris Dill, area advisor in fruits and vegetables, and Ron Cornwell, agriculture advisor, will present the sessions on vegetable gardening.

Educational emphasis in Festival concert series

Participation by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in operation of the 1977 Mississippi River Festival was approved here Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

In accord with a resolution adopted by directors of the Mississippi River Festival, Inc., on Jan. 25, SIU trustees approved the appointment of SIUE as the general operating agent of MRF for the 1977 season, and a memorandum of understanding between the university board and MRF board.

The resolution adopted by trustees also approves establishment of the Office of University Cultural Arts Services (OUCAS) and the 1977 MRF general program format and projected budget.

Andrew J. Kochman, professor of theater, has been named director of OUCAAS and will report administratively to Dean Hollis White of the School of Fine Arts and Communications.

Dr. Kochman will supervise the work of the MRF managing director, Lyle Ward, and the arts administrator, Vicky Holt. Kochman was asked by the SIU board in December to develop an organizational plan for a year-round performing arts program by the university, to include the MRF.

The plan presented Thursday indicates that the administration of the Festival has taken steps to insure (1) "that the Mississippi River Festival shall be exclusively educational in nature and consistent with the mission and scope of the university."

(2) "That the environment and social atmosphere during Festival performances will not bring discredit to the university or discomfort to the Festival patrons; and (3) that the financial affairs of the Festival will be subjected to the highest degree of accountability."

Dr. Kochman added that "planning for the 1977 Mississippi River Festival has given careful attention to the major concerns of university mission, artistic integrity, fiscal accountability, and university fiscal and programmatic priorities."

He said MRF program selection will be based on "aesthetic and entertainment merit without consideration of the potential for excessive net profits."

"Income from contemporary programming will not be expected to defray the costs of fine arts programming. Rather, the commitment to quality fine arts programs will reflect realistic support levels of combined earned and contributed income."

With 10 less events than the 52 programs of the 1976 season, the 1977 River Festival is projected to have a total income of $581,851 and expenses of $561,561, with a season surplus of $20,290 to apply against past deficits.

Kochman said the projected income level is conservative and is lower than the income level of any year from 1972 through 1976.

On the expenditure side, he said projected expenses have been reduced wherever feasible.

"In addition, there will be continuous monitoring of expenditures, planned and actual, in order to reduce MRF expenses to the absolute minimum. It is expected that expenditures will be less than projected."

The eight-week summer series of music, dance, theater and film programs on the SIUE campus is scheduled to begin about June 20.

Dr. Kochman said the Festival will schedule contemporary events which will draw crowds averaging 8,000 to 9,000 with maximum attendance of 15,000 to 17,000 persons, as opposed to the potential of 25,000 to 30,000 expected for some rock music programs in past seasons.

Eight less contemporary programs, approximately one per week, will be booked this year.

He said greater emphasis will be placed on "family-type" programs, and the Festival will continue its commitment to increasing formal and informal instructional programs, including expansion of the Summer Music Institute, dance residency programs and lectures by performing artists.

Efforts also will be made to increase the level of contributed income to the River Festival, specifically from foundations and new grant programs on the federal level.

Tax credits—a boon to taxpayers

(Second of a series of six articles on 1976 income taxes, prepared by the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society.)

At tax filing time it's a fortunate taxpayer who qualifies for tax credits.

Unlike deductions, exemptions or exclusions, which reduce taxable income, tax credits reduce dollar for dollar, the amount of tax owed.

Thus, a dollar of credit is almost as good as a dollar in your pocket. Furthermore, it benefits a low bracket taxpayer as much as a high bracket taxpayer.

The Tax Reform Act of 1976 changed a couple of deductions into credits, while liberalizing conditions under which other credits could be claimed, reports J. Darrell Burton, president of the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA (Certified Public Accountant) Society.

The general tax credit introduced in 1973 has been retained through 1977.

Individual taxpayers can take a credit equal to the greater of $35 per individual personal exemption, or two per cent of the first $9,000 of taxable income.

The earned income credit of 10 per cent of the first $4,000 of earnings will be available through Dec. 31, 1977. This credit is phased out as adjusted gross income rises from $4,000 to $8,000.

Any excess of the credit over taxes owed is refundable in cash, and such refunds do not affect eligibility for federal or federally-assisted welfare programs.

More people have been made eligible for this earned income credit. Previously, it was available only to a taxpayer who maintained a household for a dependent child under 19 or a student for whom the taxpayer could take a personal exemption.

For 1976 and 1977, the credit is also available to taxpayers with adult disabled dependents—and to those who maintain a household for a child who is either a student or under 19, even if the youngster can't be claimed as a personal exemption.

An important change in the tax law benefits persons 65 years of age or over.

The old retirement income credit has been liberalized in a number of ways. One of them is that all kinds of income—including earned income, and not just retirement income—is now included.

Thus, the credit is now called credit for the elderly.

It's also much easier now to qualify for this credit, since the requirement that an individual must have received more than $600 of earned income in each of the preceding 10 years has been dropped.

Not only does the credit now apply to all income, including earned income, but the maximum amount of income against which the 15 per cent credit can be claimed has been increased.

For single persons and for married couples filing jointly if only one spouse is 65 or over, the new credit base is $2,500.

For married couples filing jointly if both are over 65, the base is $3,750.

However, as under the old credit, the maximum credit base must be reduced dollar for dollar by Social Security, railroad retirement benefits, or other exempt pension benefits.

To limit the broadened credit to low- and middle-income taxpayers, the new law also adds a reduction based on income level.

The old child care deduction has now become a child care credit equal to 20 per cent of the employment-related expenses for care of a qualifying child or disabled dependent. The credit, which is non-refundable, is limited to $400 per year for the care of one individual or $800 for two or more.

There are several new wrinkles in this aspect of the law.

Child care payments to relatives now qualify for the new credit. But there are important "ifs." The relative cannot be a dependent, and the relative's wages must be Subject to Social Security taxes, which you, the employer, must remit.

In ordinary circumstances, putting a member of your family on the payroll for Social Security purposes is extremely difficult.

The credit is now available to married couples even if one works full-time and the other is a part-time worker or a full-time student.

There is no longer any distinction between care rendered inside or outside the home, although no credit is allowed for the care outside the home of a disabled spouse or dependent over 15.

Remember, also, two credits that have been around for awhile.

One is the investment credit of up to 10 per cent of the cost of machinery or equipment purchased for use in business.

If last year you bought a car, for example, for use in business, that cost might qualify.

Another credit that should have widespread application affected a presidential election year is that for political contributions. There is an option here; you could take the contribution as a deduction, instead. The tax bracket you are in will determine which is preferable.

The Illinois CPA Society recommends that you pay close attention to your possible eligibility for any of the tax credits. These credits can pay off handsomely.

Sunset bill on state regulatory agencies

State Representative Jim McPike, (D) Alton, is co-sponsoring legislation to create a 10-member House-Senate Joint Rules Committee to study possible termination of all Illinois regulatory agencies unless each could justify its existence.

Specifically, the local legislator explained, the bill would create a Regulatory Agency Termination Act. Among principal provisions would be:

(1) Consideration of termination of "any arm, branch, department, board, committee or commission of state government that licenses, supervises, exercises control over or issues or otherwise regulates any trade, occupation, business or profession."

(2) Focus on, but not limited to, the Illinois Commerce Commission, Liquor Control Commission, Department of Insurance, Commissioner of Savings and Loan Associations, Department of Financial Institutions and Department of Registration and Education and all examining committees associated with it.

(3) The Joint Rules Committee reviewing and considering terminations as of: Oct. 1, 1979 — Department of Insurance, Liquor Control Commission and one-third of the examining committees of the Department of Registration and Education.

Oct. 1, 1981 — Illinois Commerce Commission, Department of Financial Institutions, plus another third of the Registration committees.

Oct. 1, 1983 — Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies, Commissioner of Savings and Loan Associations and another third of the examining committees.

(4) Application to all similar agencies created in the future.

(5) General Assembly power to continue or re-establish an agency. The Joint Rules Committee would introduce legislation to implement any decision to terminate an agency.

(6) Audit by the Illinois auditor general, upon request of the committee. Upon completion of such an audit, a public hearing would be held to review the report. Implementing legislation recommended by the Joint Rules Committee would be referred to a standing committee of the house in which it is introduced, and testimony from the public and agency executive director would be heard.

"In such a hearing," the bill states, "the agency has the burden of demonstrating a public need for its continued existence" as well as "recommending changes in the functions, powers and duties of the agency which would better serve the public good."

One section of the bill relates that "government actions have produced a substantial increase in numbers of agencies, growth of programs and proliferation of rules and regulations, and that this whole process developed without sufficient legislative oversight, regulatory accountability or a system of checks and balances."

The section concludes, "By establishing a system for the termination, continuation or re-establishment of such agencies, (legislators) will be in a better position to evaluate the need for the continued existence of existing and future regulatory bodies."

The committee would be composed of three members appointed by the speaker of the House, three by the president of the Senate, and two each by the minority leaders of the Illinois House and Senate.

Ruffner praised

Senior Vice-President Ralph W. Ruffner, who served as acting president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from Oct. 15 to Jan. 17, was given formal recognition here Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

A resolution of "appreciation and gratitude" was adopted by the board, stating that Ruffner acted with "acumen, diligence, understanding and even-handed equity in maintaining the on-going affairs of the university" during the transition period before Kenneth A. Shaw became president.

The resolution continued: "His wise and patient skill in approaching and resolving problems in that time of transition contributed significantly to the smooth functioning of the institution and to the establishment of the new administration."

"His equanimity of spirit, excellence of performance, and willingness to help in a time of need exemplify the dedication and commitment which mark the goals and aims of the SIU community."

Ruffner has returned to his position as senior vice-president for planning and review, with responsibility for development and area services. He has been asked by Pres. Shaw to also serve until June 30 as coordinator of an assessment of central organization and operations to develop recommendations for the president's consideration.

Ruffner has been a vice-president with the university for 13 years. He joined the university at Carbondale in 1964 as vice-president for student and area services. He was appointed vice-president for area and international services in 1968 and was named a system vice-president in 1970, with offices primarily at the local campus. He was appointed senior vice-president in 1972.

Fewer, bigger education service regions proposed

Illinois has too many layers of government and too many different kinds of single-purpose educational cooperatives—they should be consolidated and streamlined over a five-year period, a 30-person task force chaired by Dean Robert Burnham of Illinois State University, said Friday.

The study commission included school board members, superintendents, special and vocational education directors and higher education experts. They recommended action to streamline and modernize regional services.

Among the proposed changes are provisions for comprehensive vocational education, low-incidence special education, adult education, media programs, and curriculum and staff development for all school districts in the state through further cooperative efforts on a regional basis.

Local control, community participation, voluntary agreements and improved services are emphasized in the proposals.

The consultant, Professor E. Robert Stephens of the University of Maryland's College of Education, has served the Illinois Regional Services Planning Committee since September 1976. The position paper prepared by Stephens has been distributed to school districts and regional education service superintendents around the state, with follow-up information sessions held in Springfield and Champaign Feb. 9, Park Ridge and Rock Falls Thursday and, Carbondale and Belleville today.

Recommendations in the position paper, along with suggestions and proposals feeding in from the IOE (Illinois Office of Education) Regional Services Planning Committee and Task Force, will be developed into draft recommendations to be presented to the State Board of Education," Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, reported.

Among the major recommendations for new service units are:

1. Required Programs and Services.
These should include disbursement of state funds to school districts, auditing of school district accounts, approval of school district boundary changes, approval of district reorganization proposals, completion of school district censuses, school bus inspection, approval of school lunch programs, teacher certification, administration of the school recognition program and any other regulatory responsibilities determined by the State Board of Education and Illinois Office of Education."

2. Core Programs and Services.
These should include comprehensive plans for special education programs, comprehensive plans for vocational and adult education programs, and development and administration of media programs. The unit also should provide curriculum assistance supported by state and federal funds.

In addition, the units should directly administer other existing and planned field services (gifted education, career education, community education, vocational education) supported by state or federal funds.

Options for retaining present programs, entering into contracts with colleges and private firms, acting jointly with other units, and permitting large school districts and cooperatives to continue present programs are encouraged in the recommendations."

3. Governance.
"Each Educational Service Region should be governed by a board of nine to 13 members elected for three-year terms from membership of the local school boards in convention. A weighted formula reflecting the size of the student population of the member districts should be used in the vote for members of the governing board."

"The ESR governing board should have authority—

(1) "To develop rules and regulations to govern its internal operations."
(2) "To appoint its chief executive officer, for a maximum of a three-year term, to set his salary and other benefits and approve personnel recommendations that the chief executive would make."

(3) "To develop a three-year planning budget, to be updated and approved on an annual basis."

"The ESR governing board should be required to designate an advisory council consisting of the chief executive officer of member school districts and to appoint appropriate ad hoc advisory committees."

4. Criteria.
Primary criteria for development of the new regional service units should be:

"In densely populated areas of the state, exclusive of Cook County, each region should contain approximately 100,000 or more students in grades kindergarten through 12."

"Travel time from the service region headquarters to a substantial number of school districts should not exceed one hour. Where this isn't possible, one or more satellite centers for the region should be considered. In Cook County, exclusive of Chicago District 299, the base of all 100,000 students should prevail for each region, so long as the number of school districts required to meet this figure doesn't vary from a minimum of 20 to 25. Where this would occur, a higher enrollment figure should be used."

"Chicago School District 299 should be considered as a separate, special educational service region as well as retain all its authority as a legally designated district."

"It should be a special region only to receive monies appropriated to an educational service region and in no other way function as a region. The Illinois Office of Education should provide the programs and services required of other educational service regions directly to District 299."

"Some additional criteria also should be given consideration. These would include retaining cooperative regions that have a history of useful services, that have been formed under Article 3A of The School Code or where legitimate planning is under way, or that are existing regions established by other state agencies or for community colleges."

5. Timing.
"New legislation to establish the network of restructured regions should be passed in 1977 and have an adoptive date of July 1, 1978. It should freeze implementation of present legislation and School Code provisions on educational service regions now in effect and ultimately replace them."

"The legislation also should give to the State Board of Education the authority to develop a proposed plan for the statewide network that would place all local schools in restructured educational service regions."

"The State Board's plan should be developed by Oct. 1, 1977, be adopted by the board by Feb. 1, 1978, and should be fleshed out with rules and regulations by the board by March 1, 1978."

Presently, Educational Service Regions number 78, with further consolidation down to 57 being mandated by current law on April 1, 1977. The superintendency of each region is an elected position. Recommendations contained in the position paper would make the position an appointed office and reduce the number of regions to no set figure, but probably between 25 and 30.

Extensive involvement of educational service region superintendents, school administrators, school board members and officials, special education and vocational education leaders, as well as Illinois Office of Education specialists and officials has taken place in the process of analyzing and proposing changes in current structure and function of the regions.

The proposals presented in the Stephens report are to be studied extensively by the State Board of Education before further action.

Youngsters name 'best' friends, teacher as Valentine favorites

Teacher tied with "best" friends and parents as the favorite Valentine of a group of second-grade youngsters at a Granite City elementary school. Mrs. Patti Prosser, a second grade teacher at Niedringhaus Grade School, asked each child in her class the question — "If you could choose anyone in the whole world to be your Valentine, who would you choose and why?"

Eric Ryterski said, "My Mom and Dad, 'cause I like 'em." David Burch answered, "You (teacher), because you're nice." Also voting for Mrs. Prosser were Claudia Kachigian, David Stacy and Jennifer French.

But Michele Jones, said, "David Burch, because I really love him a lot," and Kerry

Martin answered, "Jennifer French, 'cause she told me to pick her."

Michelle Zukas commented, "I'd probably pick Michele Jones 'cause she's my best friend and I like her," and Missy Foote said, "My friend Cathy Cook, because she is my best friend."

Debbie Burmeister voted for "Tara Wickman because she's my best friend," and Tara said, "Michelle Jones because she's my best friend."

Heather Crane selected "Cindy Weible, she's my best friend," and Cindy returned the favor by responding, "Heather, because Heather is my best friend and I always play with her."

Heather Crane also got the vote of Holly McKee, "Because she's nice and she's a good friend."

Chuck Matosian chose "My Mother 'cause I like her," Jennifer Roderick said, "My brother, John, 'cause I like him," and Chris Piper answered, "My Dad... because we don't get to see him too often."

Rhanna Cook went out of the classroom and family to make her selection, choosing a Valentine popular with many "older" kids.

The second grade girl said, "Evel Knievel, because I like him and he rides a motorcycle and jumps over things."

Mrs. Prosser failed to say who her favorite Valentine may be, but the 18 children answering her quiz are probably high on the list.

While the police were searching the 18-year-old, another man, age 21, allegedly told police they were not going to take "his brother" to jail and allegedly swung at a Venice police officer.

The 18-year-old is being charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and resisting arrest, while the 21-year-old is facing an aggravated battery charge and a charge of obstructing a police officer.

Peebles on target but Cougar quintet bows

About the only consolation the SIUE basketball team got out of its 85-58 loss Saturday night at Normal, Ill., to the high-flying Red Birds of Illinois State U., was another blazing shooting effort by the Cougars' deadeye guard 5-6 Kell Peebles.

Peebles, hitting 13 of 28 shots, led all scorers with 29 points. The Red Birds, fast becoming an NCAA division I power, used their seven-foot center, Jeff Wilkins, to control the boards and the game. Wilkins led the winners' offense with 20 points and dominated the boards as he pulled down 16 rebounds. Jim Allen's nine rebounds were high for SIUE.

The shooting demonstration by Peebles might have served as a sort of warmup for his expected personal marksmanship duel with Bobby Bone of the University of Missouri-St. Louis this Wednesday night. UM-SL will play the Cougars at the Edwardsville High gym. In the two rivalries first meeting this season, the Rivermen turned back the Cougars 69-62, Peebles outscoring Bone 29-26.

In last year's final meeting of the two teams, Bone won it, 27-25.

Bubble gym busy again

Normal hours of operation have been resumed at the bubble gymnasium — the intramural, physical education and recreation facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville — it was announced Friday.

The facility had been closed for two Saturdays, and total hours of operation were cut to less than half during the extremely cold weather.

Elton Bigham, director of recreation, and Charles Moorelghen, director of plant operations, said they believe that closer monitoring of operations at the bubble can result in 17 to 20 per cent reductions of gas consumption for heating the facility.

Bigham said heating will be reduced in the facility when outside temperatures rise above 40 degrees and during moderate use periods, particularly during the weekend evenings.

Warriors win; South, North each advance 5 champions, 2 runnersup to sectional here

Granite City will be well represented this Friday when the Illinois High School Association wrestling sectional competition begins at GCHS South. Matmen representing four different districts are set to do battle for individual and team honors.

Wrestlers who claimed weight class championships and runnersup during the weekend at district meets held at Edwardsville, Cahokia, Springfield and Harrisburg will converge on the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium, including seven each from host South and GCHS North.

South High Coach William "Bill" Schmitt's Warrior team captured its 20th straight district title at Edwardsville, edging the cross-town rival Stealers of Coach Walt Whitaker, 154-138.

Roxana, which jumped out in front early in the district meet, finished third with 113½ points, and Edwardsville was fourth with 63½.

Finishing in order behind the top four were Alton with 42, Wood River 33½, Collinsville 29, Bethalto 7½ and Highland, no points earned.

As expected, the battle for first place narrowed down to GCHS South and North. South gained the final edge when Rocky Lupardus (98 pounds) and Randy Basore (119) won third-place bouts. North failed to gain a third-place spot.

Advancing from district to sectional competition for the Warriors are: 105—Wally DeShon, district champion; 112—Barry Forshee, second; 132—Dave Gaines, champion; 138—Darrell Hastly, champion; 145—James Carmody, champion; 185—Kevin Wilson, champion; and heavyweight—Mark Naglich, second.

Steelers who will compete in the sectional meet by virtue of their district performance are: 98—Keith Whelan, champion; 126—Matt McCullough, second; 135—Steve Hartline, second; 167—Mark Widell, champion; and heavyweight—James Shemwell, champion.

Earning the right to compete in the South sectional also after their finishing positions in the Edwardsville district are: 98—Don Millettello (Roxana) second; 105—Brian Horvath (Edwardsville) second.

119—Tom Correll (Collinsville) champion and Mike Voorhees (Roxana) second; 126—Tim Stasi (Wood River) second; 132—Clay Brueggeman (Roxana) second; 138—Glen Extron (Roxana) second.

155—Bill Spencer (Roxana) champion; 167—Tony Wilson (Edwardsville) second; and 185—Jerry Herren (Alton) second.

Cahokia, winner of its own weekend district, also has seven matmen entered in the sectional here.

Bellevue West, runnerup at Cahokia, also advanced seven grapplers. Bellevue East, third at Cahokia, will send three wrestlers into the action here.

Granite City teams have dominated the sectional competition since its inception in 1939, having captured 28 team championships.

The last time a local school won the sectional meet was in 1974, when GCHS South edged Bellevue East and Springfield Southeast for team honors, the latter two tied for second place.

East's Lancers won here in 1975, with South's Warriors placing second. And East beat Bellevue West for the honors last year.

Results of GCHS South sectional qualifiers follow.

DeShon drew a first-round bye and then won on decisions, 15-6 and 12-2. Forshee won on a pin in 2:40, won 20-9, lost 10-2 and won 2-41; Gaines won 3-36, 5-1 and 3-20; Hastly won 4-3, 15-2 and 5-1.

Carmody drew a bye and won 2-52 and 2-40; Wilson drew a bye and won 2-52 and 10-2; and Naglich won 10-2, won 7-6, lost 7-5 and won 12-0.

For GCHS North, Keith Whelan won 1-59, 13-2 and 5-20; Keith Whelan won 4-39, 13-1 and 10-2; McCullough won a decision and won 10-2 and 14-2.

Stuart drew a bye, won 4-0 and lost 2-0; Hartline won 9-4, won 15-1 and lost 18-3; Widell won 2-43, 3-15 and 21-12; and Shemwell won 1-45, 18-2 and 7-5.

Placing third at the Edwardsville district were Warriors Rocky Lupardus (98) and Randy Basore (119).

Lupardus won 2-53, lost 13-2, won in 29 seconds, won 11-9 and lost 6-4.

Basore won 9-3, lost 4-2, won 1-49 and won 14-6.

Also for South: 126—Sam Perkins won 19-0 and lost 10-2 and 13-9; 155—Mike Forshee won 1-56, lost 5-0, won 2-37 and 10-2; 167—Randy Hueser lost 5-14.

Other Steelers who participated were: 105—Kevin Shemwell lost 11-5, won 2-23 and lost 7-5; 119—Tracy Patton lost a decision; 132—John Sandis won 1-56, lost 5-0, won 2-37 and 10-2; 138—Steve Haefner lost 7-4; and 185—Jerry Broadwater lost 3-08.

NORTH STEELERETTES. The 1977 season of girls' varsity basketball is under way for the Steelerettes of Granite City High North. The team's 10-game schedule runs through mid-March, when regional

Kahoks, Comanches on warpath, top Warriors

Coach Virgil Fletcher's Kahok club, ranked third statewide among Class A-A schools, maintained its 1976-77 season undefeated status (23-0) with back-to-back victories during the weekend, including an 80-48 win over GCHS South at Collinsville Friday night.

While Collinsville was beating Edwardsville 76-48 Saturday night, Coach Don Deterding's Warriors were suffering a 70-41 setback in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium the same evening at the hands of Cahokia's Comanches.

Cahokia led 20-0, 38-18 and 57-26 at the quarters despite 20 points by Warrior John Slay and 10 by Terry Angle during Saturday's game.

The Comanches made 24 field goals to South's 18, and sank 22 charity tosses to the Warriors' 15.

South committed the most fouls, 18-14.

David Rhodes added five Warrior points, Jeff Parker four and Tom Hennrich two.

Slay and Kahok John Belobayev tied for scoring honors Friday, each with 20 points, as Collinsville led 20-10, 41-24 and 63-36 at the quarters.

Collinsville outscored South 17-12 in the final period, hitting on seven field goals in 11 attempts to the Warriors' four of 14.

From the floor, Collinsville made 33 of 61 and South 20 of 42. The Kahoks sank more charity tosses, 14-8, and had the fewest fouls, 17-19, and turnovers, 19-27.

South trailed in rebounding boards, 28-33.

Eight points from Slay and two from Angle in the opening period almost kept the Warriors in the contest, but Collinsville meshed six field goals and nine of 11 free throws in the second period while holding Slay to three baskets.

The Kahoks shot 10 of 19 from the floor in the third quarter and South six of 11.

Three other Collinsville players tallied double-figure points—Kevin Stallings 16, Joe Ossola 12 and Steve Ray 10.

Adding to Slay's game total were Angle and Rhodes each with seven, Parker and Greg Feigl five each and Hennrich, four.

MHS basketball rally topples Cairo 69-64

Madison High School's eagles improved their 1976-77 season record to 19 wins against three losses Saturday night, defeating Cairo High School's Pilots 69-64 in the Trojan gymnasium.

The game marked Madison's second victory of the season over the Cairo squad and evened the Pilots' record at 10-10. The Trojans had defeated Cairo 77-73 in the third game of the season.

The Pilots led 18-9 at the end of the first quarter and the score was tied 28-28 at halftime. Madison held a 48-46 margin going into the final quarter and then outscored the visitors 21-18.

Cairo held the edge from the floor, 29-28, but the Trojans prevailed on charity tosses, 13-6.

Madison committed the fewest fouls, 12-19, and turnovers, 13-23. The teams tied in rebounding, 43-43.

Trojan Rodney Davis, a 6-3 senior, sparked Madison's offense with 27 points and with key baskets which deadlocked the score on several occasions. He also grabbed 19 missed shots off the backboards.

Madison got off to a slow start, missing eight basket attempts while Cairo took a 4-0 lead.

Davis scored first for the Trojans but the Pilots went ahead 15-2 before Davis added three points and Randall Jones two. Anthony King cut the deficit with a basket with 38 seconds to go.

Cairo scored immediately to start the second quarter, but consecutive baskets by Randall Jones, Ron Williams and Davis led Madison trailing 20-15 with 6:09 to go before the half.

The Pilots made it 24-15 on two goals. But a free throw by Trojan Ron Morris was followed by two baskets each by Jones and Davis for a 24-24 deadlock.

Cairo hit on two charity tosses and a basket to lead 28-24 with 3:09 left, and Davis provided the halftime tie with a basket and two free throws.

A technical foul called against Madison during the halftime break for removing a scorebook from the playing area resulted in Cairo sinking a charity toss when play resumed for a 29-28 lead.

Third-quarter action was a "seesaw" affair, with both sides taking turns going ahead. Madison came out on top by making 10 field goals in 19 attempts to Cairo's six of 11.

Twice Cairo caught Madison in the fourth quarter and tied the score — 52-52 and 56-56. The Pilots then moved ahead 62-56 with 3:41 to play.

A charity toss by James Heard and baskets by Clayton Harris, King and Davis put Madison up by one with 2:33 remaining.

Cairo edged ahead on a basket but Madison retaliated with two free throws by King and two field goals by Heard to lead by five points with four seconds to go.

Adding to the 27 points by Davis were Jones and King, 14 each, Ron Williams six, Heard five, Harris two and Morris one.

Steelers stun Notre Dame; nearly upset Teutopolis five

High-rated Quincy Notre Dame probably felt more like the "frayed" instead of the Raiders after suffering a 70-62 loss to GCHS North here Friday night.

North's Steelers nearly handed Teutopolis its second defeat of the season Saturday night on the Wooden Shoes' homecourt, but the host school prevailed at the free throw line to win 59-57.

Now with a 7-13 record, Coach William "Bill" Ohlendorf's North High squad trailed Teutopolis 15-8, 30-27 and 42-40 before matching the hosts point-for-point in the final quarter.

The teams were even from the floor with 23 field goals. Teutopolis sank 13 free throws in 16 attempts and North 11 of 18. The hosts committed the most fouls, 20-18, but edged North on the boards, 25-21.

Double-figure scoring by Jerry Barnett, Rodney Wortham and Brian Smith kept the Steelers in contention for a second-straight night. But North's opportunity to pull another upset was lost when the Steelers missed in the last quarter on six charity tosses which would have allowed bonus tosses.

A basket by Wortham with 1:30 left in the game enabled the Steelers to edge ahead 55-54, but a three-point play on a basket and free throw returned the lead to Teutopolis, 57-55.

The Steelers missed back-to-back scoring attempts with 30 seconds to go, and the hosts scored again before Barnett hit for a goal at the buzzer.

John Smith, a 6-5 sophomore, led the Wooden Shoes with 20 points, and Barnett topped the Steelers with 21.

Also for North, Wortham added 18 points, Smith 12, Gary Paul four and Alan Warfield two.

Barnett poured 27 points through the net against Quincy's Raiders, including 11 free throws in 11 attempts, and Wortham provided 24 points while Smith added 12 and Paul seven.

Notre Dame, now with a 17-5 record and rated third in the state in Class A ranks, led 20-14 and 36-33 before North pumped in 11 field goals to the visitors' six in the third quarter for a 56-51 Steeler lead going into the final quarter. North outscored the Raiders 12-11 in the last period.

North was down by 14 points once in the second quarter, but an eight-point effort by Barnett and five points from Wortham left the Steelers trailing by only three at halftime.

Each of the two players contributed nine points in the third quarter.

Notre Dame and North High each missed 26 field goals, and the Steelers tossed in 18 foul shots in 23 attempts.

Quincy was 10 of 15 at the foul line. The visitors committed the most fouls, 19-14.

The Raider effort saw Tim Meekes and Warren Ancell each put 21 points on the scoreboard and Jim Leahy 18.

Rowe, Elliott, Mrs. Blackshere elected

Harris Rowe of Jacksonville was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University at the February meeting of the board on the local campus Thursday. Other officers elected were: Ivan A. Elliott Jr., Carmi, vice chairman, and Mrs. Margaret Blackshere, of Madison, secretary.

After serving as chairman of the board for four years, Elliott voluntarily stepped down to become vice-chairman. An attorney, he was appointed to the board in 1967 and served as vice-chairman from 1969 until he was elected chairman in 1973.

Mrs. Blackshere, an elementary school teacher in Madison, has been a member of the SIU board since 1973. This will be her third term as secretary.

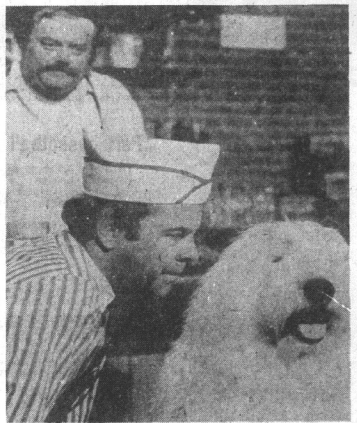

Members of the SIU board executive committee and board representatives to state systems and boards also were elected. They include:

Even commercials make Conway cry

By NANCY ANDERSON
 Press-Record

Hollywood Bureau
 Tim Conway, funny man in "The Carol Burnett Show" and Disney's "The Shaggy D.A.," claims:

"Comics are super sensitive."

"In a theater, the first people to cry are the comics, and the first people to laugh are the comics."

"I myself often find tears coming at commercials," Conway has written eight screenplays, only half of which are comedies.

"George Kennedy read one and didn't believe I wrote it," Tim says. "He said it was the most sensitive piece he'd read in two years."

"Well, now, that made me—the guy in the chicken outfit—feel pretty good."

Three St. Louis youths arrested

Three 19-year-old St. Louis area youths face multiple charges after being arrested at 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

All three have been charged with disorderly conduct allegedly for yelling, using profane language and threatening people in the waiting room at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at 1 a.m. Saturday.

Ordered to leave by the hospital security guard, they got into an auto, drove away and allegedly hit the parked car of Joseph T. Judd, of 2580 Northridge Ave., police reported.

Police said they later saw one of the trio causing a disturbance at Niedringhaus Avenue and the railroad tracks while waiting for a train.

Extensive community service by McBride

Last week's appointment of Robert D. McBride as chairman of the fall 1977 fund-raising campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way continues a record of varied community service by the steel executive.

President since Jan. 12, 1976, of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, McBride is an active member of many local organizations, including the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Granite City Rotary Club, as well as a number of regional, state and national groups.

Starting with Granite City Steel in July 1956 fresh from a tour of Army duty following graduation from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, McBride began a steady climb up the ladder toward the top position.

After starting as a junior industrial engineer, his first move-up came in March 1958 when he was made a practicing man in the Galvanizing and

ROBERT D. MCBRIDE

Warehousing Department. In June 1959, McBride became assistant general foreman of Galvanizing; in July 1961, assistant to the division superintendent — Rolling and Finishing; in March 1963, division superintendent of Rolling and Finishing; in February 1965, assistant to the vice president in charge of Operations.

In February 1966, he was named assistant general manager of Operations; in May 1966, vice president of Operations; and in January 1975, vice president and general manager of the Granite City Steel Division shortly after completing Harvard Business School's Advanced Management Program.

After graduating from West

Point with a bachelor of science degree in 1950, McBride had served in the Army Infantry. He had a colorful six-year career, having qualified for both Airborne and Ranger operations.

He served in combat in Korea in 1952 with a guerrilla unit making raids on the South Korean mainland from island bases in the Yellow Sea.

Cited often for valor, he earned the Silver Star, Bronze Star, Purple Heart and Army Commendation Ribbon. Later, he was assigned for two years at the United Nations command in Tokyo. He reached the rank of major in the Army Reserve. McBride, 49, lives in St. Louis County with his wife, Gloria, and four children.

Sugarless gum is recommended

This is the third in a series of six articles on dental health published by the Press-Record, in cooperation with the Madison District Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week.

There has been a lot of talk lately about "sugarless" chewing gum. Is it better to chew this than regular gum?

Dr. Wallace Brylak, chief of the Dental Section of St. Elizabeth Hospital here, replies:

If you must chew gum, the American Dental Association says, it is better to chew sugarless products rather than those that contain sugar.

A number of research studies, the ADA says, point out that some of the sugarless sweetening agents — including mannitol, sorbitol and xylitol — do not contribute significantly to dental decay when they are used in gums and other confections as replacements for sugar.

How does the decay process work? It begins with bacterial plaque — the sticky, colorless substance that is present in everyone's mouth.

Shortly after you consume sugary foods or beverages, the bacteria in the plaque begins to produce acids that attack tooth enamel.

With frequent and repeated exposure to sugary substances, these acids wear down the tooth enamel and eventually cause decay.

The Schermers Bulletin

Last week we heard one of the best reasons ever for "Shopping at Schermers." It seems as the last week the "Utility Bills" were due and those January bills were really something.

Record-breaking cold months mean record breaking gas bills and just what can you do about them?

The answer is — very little. About the only thing we know of is to watch our side. We are constantly searching for "Good Buys." That is, good food items to sell at very low prices. That's why you see our ads filled with giblets, special fish buys, liver sales, etc., etc.

The only flexible expense that you yourself can control is food. And we're in business to help you do just that.

Come in and talk to a real Schermers for some down-to-earth food budget suggestions.

Beta Sigma Phi 'Sweetheart Ball'

The fifth annual "Sweetheart Ball" of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Croatian Hall, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

The public is invited to attend and tickets, costing $3.50 each, are available from sorority members. The tickets include free beer and set-ups, and dancing to the music of the Terry Dufko Band.

The dance is sponsored annually by the Beta Sigma Phi City Council, a central group consisting of representatives from each of the six Quad-City area chapters.

Chapters are offered the chance to nominate a "Sweetheart" for the coming year and have the person chosen at the February dance.

Those selected for the honor have made outstanding contributions to their chapter's activities and in community involvement.

Four of the chapters have named a member to be honored at this year's "Sweetheart Ball."

Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver, city council president and a member of Preceptor Beta Gamma, was selected to represent her chapter as a ball honoree.

A member of Beta Sigma Phi since 1962, Mrs. Tolliver has held chapter offices of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer and has served as chairman of all committees.

She was named "Girl of the Year" in 1972.

Her interests also involve several community groups, and she is a member of the governing boards of Catholic Charities, St. Mark's Parish Council, OATH Sheltered Workshop, River Bluff Girl Scout Council and serves as chairman of the Madison County Special Education Advisory Committee. She also belongs to the women's organization of St. Mark's Parish.

The honoree and her husband, Jack R. Tolliver, live at 1250 Klein St., Venice. They have six children, John, Tim, Dick, Jeff, Dan and Mary Anne.

Mrs. Tolliver graduated from Venice High School and attended Webster College in Webster Groves, Mo. She is employed part-time at Koken Manufacturing Co., St. Louis.

Her husband, a federal government employee, is president of the Venice Board of Education.

Her hobbies are gardening, sewing, music and dancing.

Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi chose Mrs. Jane Parmley Yates as its 1977 "Sweetheart."

She is a graduate of the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, where she earned a bachelor of Fine Arts degree in painting.

Mrs. Yates and her husband, Terry, a science teacher at Prairie Junior High School, live at 2344 O'Hare Ave. They are the parents of two small children, Matthew and Adriane.

While at university, Mrs. Yates served as president of her social sorority — Alpha Epsilon Phi. She is a life member of the University of Illinois Alumni Association.

Mrs. Yates is a charter member of Theta Theta Chapter, having joined the sorority in 1973.

In 1977, she is serving on the Town and Country Arts Committee.

Representing Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter is Mrs. Barbara Jean Jones, 2709 Sunset Drive, who is employed as secretary-bookkeeper at the Composition Roofers Union, Local 2.

She is a member of the Office and Professional Employees International Union, AFL-CIO, Local 13; Eagles Auxiliary Unit 1126; and Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary Unit 53 of Granite City, in addition to her sorority involvement.

Mrs. Jones and her husband, Clarence Lloyd Jones, are the parents of a son, Jonathan Trent Jones, 4 years.

The Xi Epsilon Chi honoree, a native of Granite City, received the Order of the Rose degree in 1975 and was named "Girl of the Year" in 1976. She served as chapter president (three terms), chapter vice-president (three terms) and chapter corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Jones held the office of president, vice-president, treasurer and corresponding secretary of the Beta Sigma Phi City Council. She also served as chairman of various committees in her chapter.

She is a registered medical assistant and secretary, and a graduate of Granite City High School South.

Beta Sigma Phi's Nu Zeta Chapter has selected Mrs. Sheryle A. Whaley as its "Sweetheart" for 1977.

She is a life-long resident of Granite City and now lives at 3964 Lake St., with her husband, Jim Whaley Jr., and 14-year-old son, Keith.

Mrs. Whaley is employed as a teller at Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association in Granite City. She is the current recording secretary and service chairman of Nu Zeta and previously served as vice-president, treasurer and corresponding secretary.

She has been a member of Beta Sigma Phi for four years. Mrs. Whaley also is a member of St. Margaret Mary Church and a social card club. Her hobbies include all sports, gardening, sewing and macrame work.

The four women will be honored at the City Council's "Sweetheart Ball" on Saturday night. The public is invited to attend the gala affair.

Mrs. Alice Cruse presents lesson

A devotional lesson on Eve, in conjunction with a continuing study of the women of the Bible, was presented by Mrs. Alice Cruse at the Faith Circle meeting held at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

During her presentation each member quoted a Bible verse. Mrs. Cruse requested each one be prepared to recite a verse with the word faith in it, at the March meeting.

Mrs. Cruse, circle leader, presided at the meeting and reminded each one of the stewardship crusade. She announced the members are to bring a baby gift to the March meeting for the Church Women United layette program.

Mrs. Sharon Loftus, president conducted the business session and members answered roll call with "my favorite diet—one that works for me."

Comment and analysis

Unprecedented public support for Tri-Cities United Way

The annual report of the Tri-Cities Area United Way tells a story of significant achievement.

With $475,000 sought in the fall campaign, enough was raised to permit 1977 allocations totaling $482,180. Subsequent receipts have brought the campaign results past the half-million-dollar mark to an unprecedented $502,219.

Industrial employers and corporations contributed $368,296, led by William P. Donovan. Other facets of the local community — residents, employees and the self-employed — also responded in a substantial way, raising $133,923.

Division chairmen and pledges included: business, Donald Van Horn, $28,826; drive, George Moore Sr., $22,695; professional, Eric Robertson, $15,898; mail-telephone, Mrs. J. Meyer, $15,873; construction, Henry Ross, $13,032; Madison-Venice, Henry Gray, $10,945; commercial division I, David Brooks, $10,880; commercial II, Drew Karandjef, $8,821; and the Tri-Cities Area United Way share of Combined Federal Campaign giving, coordinated by Mrs. Sally Herbst, $6,953.

Campaign Chairman Bill H. Terrell sees the record drive as "further proof that this community is a winner, and can handle any condition if we stand together. And the amount of money raised more nearly meets the required needs of our community agencies."

Distributions in 1977 will be: Alcoholic Rehabilitation Community Home, $14,000; American Red Cross Tri-City Chapter, $48,500; Arthritis Foundation, $4,800; Boy Scouts of America, $4,800; Catholic Charities, $55,131; Catholic Youth Services, $46,331; Girl Scouts, River Bluffs Council, $26,700; Family Counseling Center, $3,000. Also, Illinois Children's Home and Aid, $11,500; Protestant Welfare Association, $19,000; Salvation Army, $30,000; Tri-Cities Area Association for Retarded, $10,500; Tri-City Young Men's Christian Association, $56,000; Urban League of St. Clair and Madison Counties, $4,000; Visting Nurse Association, $15,000; United Way administration and AFL-CIO Community Service, $65,218; campaign expense, $7,500; and shrinkage, $12,000. There have been four consecutive successful, over-the-top Tri-Cities Area United Way drives — a pattern reflecting deep community pride and a widespread feeling of usefulness.

The outlook remains highly positive, with Robert D. McBride designated as next campaign leader, new executive director Keith Rohrs at work, and improvements being made in budgeting, performance evaluation and priorities planning.

Decisive victory by McBride in Steelworkers' balloting

Although his opponent's negative campaign received considerable support here, Lloyd McBride, 60, attracted decisive backing nationally in winning the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America.

Director of the Granite City subdistrict during the 1946-65 period and then director of the local five-state district since then, McBride has solid credentials as an effective, hard-working union leader.

Succeeding him as District 34 director will be Buddy Davis, 47, who has been in charge of the local subdistrict office as well as taking a leading role in the Illinois AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Reverse good will shown in response to severe weather

Press-Record Washington Bureau — Americans are not used to being on the receiving end of "foreign aid," and it might even ruffle the pride of some to consider that anyone in our country would need it.

But it is gratifying to hear that the president of the city assembly of West Berlin is appealing for donations to help Americans suffering from severe weather in areas hit by blizzards and bitter cold.

West Berliners can remember when American planes brought them fuel and food to survive the winter of 1948-49 during the Berlin Blockade. They are mindful of the American commitment to the defense of their city today.

The amount and type of assistance that may be sent through the German Red Cross is important, and what it represents — gratitude and concern.

Second thoughts on Vietnam war

To the Editor:

I must applaud President Carter's decision to pardon the Vietnam war draft dodgers. It is unfortunate that the deserters have to wait for the decision regarding their future.

After serving four years in the military, of which two years were in Vietnam, I never thought I would speak favorably of a draft dodger or deserter. But our intervention in Vietnam was so very wrong. It was none of our business.

That war just helped a few people become very rich at the expense of the American taxpayer. It also made for many military promotions that perhaps otherwise might not have been made, had it not been for the massive troop buildups. There were more majors, colonels and generals during Vietnam than during World War II.

The whole thing cost our country well over 50,000 American lives and over 300,000 wounded, some permanently. This does not include those countless numbers who now suffer the mental torment of contributing to death by war. These were, for the most part, young Americans who were strong enough, healthy enough and intelligent enough to serve their country. They were some of the "cream of the crop."

I feel that our country betrayed those who served in Vietnam. It is my feeling that had I been killed in Vietnam, I would have died for nothing.

What was it all those Americans died for? It is not like we were asked to fight for and defend our country. We were not even defending democracy, not when elections were held and Mr. Thieu was the only name on the Vietnamese ballot for president.

Some American military personnel came to a realization that there was nothing to fight for and certainly nothing to die for in Vietnam.

They could no longer cope with or justify their existence and contributed thousands to the American military forces. These were some of the people who decided not to fulfill their contract with their government; in other words, they were deserters.

There also were those people who did not believe in the war and did not believe in what their country was representing at that time, and chose not to serve in the military in the first place.

Some decided to leave the U.S.A. rather than fight for something they did not believe in. These people were labeled draft dodgers. However, I believe that conscientious objectors like Muhammad Ali are just as much draft dodgers as the persons who went to Canada.

I also believe that those who married or enrolled in college to avoid the draft also are draft dodgers. There seems to be legal draft dodging and illegal draft dodging.

It seems as though people are confusing the Vietnam conflict with times like World War II when the American people really did fight for and defend their country as well as defend and promote democracy.

I do not feel that the draft dodgers and deserters should be punished for not being a part of the military in Vietnam. But we should commend and reward those, particularly the disabled, who did decide to honor tradition and enter the military when our country was involved in a conflict, even though some may not have agreed with it.

Television—too violent for children?

(First of two articles by the National PTA)

Practically every day of the year, blood, gore and brutality enter the American home. There are mainings and murders—rapes and robberies—stabbing and shootings—and countless other horrors.

This violence enters living rooms, family rooms and bedrooms through that sound-and-picture box, the television set, and commands an audience that includes millions of young children.

By the time the average American child reaches the age of 14, he has witnessed 11,000 television murders—not including muggings, fights, robberies, kidnappings and beatings not resulting in death. Concern for children—all children—has been the reason for the PTA's existence since it was founded in 1897.

The protection and education of children, including a safe, wholesome environment in which they can live and grow, has been a continuous effort of parents and teachers.

So, the PTA's concern over the quality of entertainment children are watching is not new. It dates back to 1910, when the national membership expressed concern over the influence of mass media on children and youth, and urged local organizations to supervise attendance of youngsters at motion pictures and vaudeville productions.

In 1942, the PTA Magazine began publishing motion picture reviews. And in 1948, a special committee was drafted to develop "a plan of action against unwholesome comics, motion pictures and radio programs."

Since 1964, resolutions have been passed at state and national conventions, demanding that the standards be improved.

At first, the resolutions concentrated on mass media in general. But at the 1968 national convention, delegates adopted a resolution urging the TV industry to improve the quality of its programs.

At the national convention in 1975, they adopted a resolution focusing solely on violence in television programming. The 1975 resolution urged state PTAs, districts, councils and local units to observe and monitor TV programming and commercials in their areas.

And where an excessive amount of violence in programming is seen, they were asked to express their concerns to the sponsors of the programs, the TV stations, major networks, the National Association of Broadcasters, Federal Communications Commission and their elected representatives.

The resolution also demanded that networks and stations reduce the amount of violence shown on TV programs and commercials during the entire day, but particularly during the time impressionable young children are most likely to be watching.

Following that convention, Carol Kimmel, National PTA president, and other members of the SU board, wrote letters to executives at the three national networks and the National Association of Broadcasters, Code Authority Office, requesting that serious consideration be given to the PTA's concern about TV violence, as well as assurances that violence was being reduced.

Their responses indicated that though the networks regret the PTA's unhappiness with their programs, they believe they are obeying the rules in television programming—and that nothing is going to change.

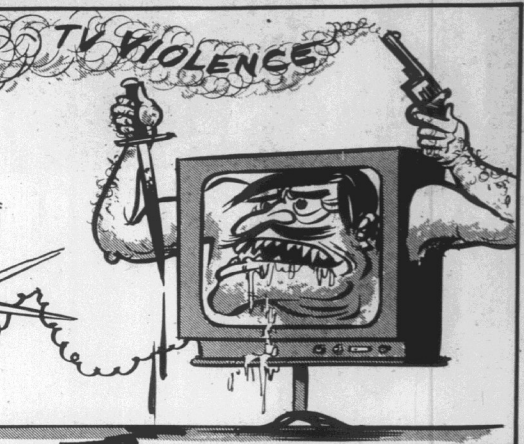

Television, because it grips the viewer's interest through both the eyes and ears, has a strong fascination for children—and many adults.

The degree of fascination is such that by the time many children graduate from high school, they will have spent more time in front of the TV set than in the classroom—15,000 hours TV time vs. 11,000 class time, according to Peggy Charren, president, Action for Children's Television.

Although much more research is needed before there is adequate knowledge about the immediate and long-range effects of television on children, many parents believe this single influence has a tremendous effect on children's emotions, attitudes and behavior.

There is research that backs this belief.

Findings from studies on the impact of television programming on children indicating that children learn behavioral patterns from TV, they tend to imitate behavior viewed on TV, especially if that behavior is immediately rewarded; they are more likely to imitate adult than peer behavior; they tend to be more motionless sitting in front of the TV; disadvantaged minority children experience the worst effects; and children who have become weakened by extensive TV viewing find school more difficult.

"How dare you threaten ME...!"

The PTA has always believed that parents must assume responsibility for what their children watch, and urge them to do so; but it is acutely aware that many children do not have parental supervision.

Consequently, much of their learning experience—their ideas about the social world as how people relate to each other—comes from television.

The influence, of course, works both ways. Programs such as "Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood" and "Sesame Street" have done much to foster positive attitudes in preschoolers.

But, unhappily, TV violence has "remained unacceptably high," according to a 1974 report by two researchers at the University of Pennsylvania's Annenberg School of Communication.

Just what happens to a child after being exposed to a daily barrage of brutality? Psychologists have been observing children for years, attempting to find the answer.

One study reports that when the TV-hardened child experiences school failure, he acts out what he sees on television.

He insists that the schools be operated within their financial means, but he encourages the staff to improve education by finding better ways of doing things and by replacing obsolete programs with up-to-date ones. However, once convinced that the district needs more money, he is not afraid to take the problem to local taxpayers or a state legislature.

He has a well-developed sense of fair play and exercises it for the benefit of students, employees and taxpayers. He refers all complaints to the administrative staff and acts on such complaints at board meetings only after failure of an administrative action.

1. View the school board as a stepping stone to some other political office or to some kind of personal gain.

3. Thrive on the publicity that needless controversy brings.

It is easy for outside matters to cloud the major aims of the schools and to polarize factions in the community by bringing personal interests to bear on school operations.

The 12 characteristics of a good school board member are as follows:

3 questioned in rape, theft case

Police questioned three men early Friday relating to a complaint by a 27-year-old Granite City woman that she had been raped and her purse looted of $60 before 1:30 a.m. Friday.

Officers escorted her to a hospital where she was examined by a physician. The victim said that when she was leaving work in Madison at 9 p.m. Thursday, her auto failed to start and she called a taxi. After waiting over a half-hour for the cab, she decided to walk and left her place of employment.

At 7th Street and Madison Avenue, she accepted a ride in an auto occupied by four men and a small baby. Enroute to Granite City, one man was dropped off at a residence and the infant was left at another location.

The remaining three men went to her apartment, where they talked for a while and offered to fix her car, she said. The trio left.

One man, described as tall, blond and wearing an army-type jacket, shortly returned, said he needed to wash his hands and was readmitted to the apartment.

The victim said the man pushed her into a room and threatened to kill her. She began to scream, she told police.

A short time later there was a knock on the door and the man called out, "Sit down there in the living room and wait for me." The woman said she recognized the second man as another member of the trio. The victim went to an upstairs apartment, called police and agreed to see a doctor.

It was at this point that she found out the $60 was missing from her purse.

The woman remembered a phone number being mentioned earlier and told officers, who called the number and found it belonged to one of the three alleged to have been at the apartment.

The man had driven the victim's car to his house to repair it, he said.

The other two men were contacted and brought to the police station at 3:50 a.m. Friday.

One of the three told of relations with the victim and said no force was used. All denied knowledge of the missing money.

Later, the alleged rapist admitted taking money from a purse and giving half the amount to a man companion. A total of $61 was confiscated by officers from the pair.

A fourth adult occupant of the vehicle was identified, and it was verified he had not been in the apartment.

The three were released pending a study by the state's attorney's office.

New center at Lincoln home is dedicated

Governor James R. Thompson dedicated the new Lincoln Home National Historic Site Visitors Center yesterday afternoon in Springfield.

The new facility includes two auditoriums, for groups of 75 and 175. Visitors to the site will see a 26-minute film, "Mr. Lincoln's Springfield," before they tour the four-block historic district, which includes the 138-year-old Lincoln family residence.

"Lincoln's home has long been one of Illinois' biggest tourist attractions," Thompson said. "This new facility will give visitors to the historic site added perspective into the life of the man generally considered to be America's greatest President."

The dedication took place at the First Presbyterian Church, where the Lincolns worshipped during their 37-year stay in Springfield.

Thompson later cut a ribbon to open the new center. The Lincoln complex is within walking distance of several other landmarks, including the Lincoln law office and the restored Old State Capitol where he gave his "house divided" speech while serving in the Illinois General Assembly.

Measles immunizations urged

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

Many parents go to great lengths to provide their children with the things the parents didn't have in their own childhoods. This is a natural and, in most cases, commendable attitude. But one thing most parents had that today's children should not have is measles.

It used to be that having measles was just part of growing up. It also used to be that many children were left with vision, hearing or mental deficiencies, and some died, as a result of having had measles. In today's world, children don't have to have measles. There is a vaccine which will prevent it.

One shot of this vaccine will protect a child from measles and its possibly tragic aftermath.

In the last few months, outbreaks of measles have occurred in several areas of the United States, including two or three sections of Illinois.

Most of these cases have occurred in the junior high and high school age groups. Only time will tell how many of these children will have vision, hearing or other handicaps for the rest of their lives.

If you have children, and they haven't as yet been protected against measles, call your physician and arrange to have them immunized as soon as possible.

The Illinois Department of Public Health recommends measles immunization for children as soon as they reach 15 months of age.

As loving parents, we want to give our children every possible advantage. Growing up without measles is one advantage we can all give our children.

Measles immunization is available from physicians, or the state health department can make arrangements to have children immunized.

Just contact: Illinois Department of Public Health, Immunization Program, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761. Have your children immunized now... it's a loving thing to do.

measles is one advantage we can all give our children. Measles immunization is available from physicians, or the state health department can make arrangements to have children immunized.

A WORD TO THE ENERGY-WISE ABOUT COMFORT

What's the wind-chill factor at your back door?

Running a lighted match around doors and windows quickly shows where you need caulking or weatherstripping.

Over a period of time, even a small draft can add up to a big waste of energy. Make the openings in your home weathertight and you'll take a heavy load off your heating system.

Your biggest energy savings are made by installing insulation in the ceiling, walls and above unheated crawl spaces. Insulation to the high standards recommended today is a prime investment in comfort and energy conservation.

In Illinois, there can be energy enough for all our needs if we will use it wisely.

We have a free illustrated manual on insulation and other weatherproofing ideas that's yours for the asking at our office.

Equipment purchases scheduled

Noninstructional capital improvements totaling more than $3.7 million for Southern Illinois University were approved here Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees, subject to approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

The improvements, to be implemented through November 1977, include five projects totaling $970,000 for the local campus. Carbondale campus improvements total $2,777,800.

The projects are to be funded from nonappropriated funds and are not subject to the regular budgetary process. The IBHE has statutory responsibility to determine whether or not any project submitted for approval is consistent with the master plan for higher education.

SIUE improvements, anticipated sources of funds and estimated project costs are:

- New and replacement equipment such as service vehicles, printing equipment, office furniture and housing furniture and furnishings; funds derived from revenues generated by service and auxiliary enterprise departments; $150,000.

- Equipment and furnishings for the Alton and East St. Louis center student lounges and new and replacement equipment for recreation and athletic programs and acquisition of a bus for the Tower Lake Housing complex; funds derived from student fees; $95,000.

- Necessary improvements to the housing area, including parking, sidewalks, lighting and lounge areas; revenue generated by housing and auxiliary enterprises; $150,000.

- Renovation and equipment and furnishings for the second floor area of the University Center, converting 13,000 square feet into meeting rooms of various sizes, plus renovation for various University Center office and service areas and equipment for the areas; funds from student fees; $500,000.

- Olin Conference Center renovation, providing repairs and remodeling for plumbing and electrical services, remodeling of interior areas for conference usage, and road and parking improvements; funds derived from gifts; $75,000.

Improvements at the Carbondale campus are to include remodeling, rehabilitating, equipment and, in some instances, planning for various facilities, including university housing, student center, parking lots, athletic and special purpose facilities, and auxiliary enterprise and service operation facilities. Source of funds for the projects generally are operating revenues of the facilities and student fees.

FAX INFORMATION
Mildred Backs of the Internal Revenue Service will speak to senior citizens Wednesday, Feb. 23. All senior citizens are invited to hear her speak in the YMCA auditorium at 1 p.m. She will discuss such topics as income tax forms, tax exemptions and other related material. For more information Quad-City senior citizens may call the "Y" at 876-7200.

'Winterfest' at university

Mario Manzini, renowned as "the world's greatest escape artist," will be just one of the highlights of this year's Winterfest at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The activities will begin Wednesday at 10 a.m. with an ice-carving contest in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center. The contest will be followed by a hula-hoop stuffing contest and "Griffin," an area rock band.

Computer games will line the south gallery wall in the University Center from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. To top the day's festivities, Manzini will escape into the Meridian Ballroom at 8 p.m. Admission will be $1.50 for SIUE students and $2 for the general public.

Thursday's activities will include Boston street singer Stephen Baird; the Alton High School band; magician Jim Moody, who performs regularly at a St. Louis Ramada Inn; singer-comedian Fats Johnson; local rock band "Sonn"; and more computer games. Activities will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through the afternoon.

The carnival comes to the University Center Friday with student organizations' booths lining the gallery wall. Stephen Baird will once again appear "at large" on campus with his "joyous music and humorous stories." An egg-eating contest will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the Goshen Lounge for those who want to top the current SIUE egg-eating record of 31 eaten in one hour.

Local band "Felix," a paper airplane contest and a penny pitching contest also will be included in the day's activities.

For night owls, Friday is a "late nighter," with activities lasting until midnight or beyond. Ice skating will be available at Wilson Park in Granite City from 1:30 a.m. until 4:30 a.m. Saturday (Friday night). Bus transportation will be provided at no charge.

Carnival booths will be set up between 8 p.m. and 12 midnight Friday. The Winterfest Dance in Meridian Ballroom will begin at 8 p.m. and is headlined by "Felix" and "Faustus."

Kappa Alpha Psi will hold a record dance in the Mississippi Room of the University Center, and the recreation center in the basement of the University Center will be open and free to students with an SIUE identification Friday night. Night club acts and dancing will be featured on the second floor of the center.

All activities are free, with the exception of the carnival booths, the Kappa Alpha Psi dance and the Mario Manzini performance.

The Major Events office may be contacted for additional information at 692-3890.

Nuclear power delayed again

Illinois Power Company announced Friday that completion and commercial service for Unit No. 2 at the nuclear power station under construction near Clinton, Ill., will be deferred until 1988. The 950-megawatt unit had been scheduled for service in mid-1984.

Remodel 4 structures

Contracts totaling $291,670 have been awarded by the Illinois Capital Development Board for remodeling four core buildings on the SIUE campus.

SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw told the SIU Board of Trustees Thursday that remodeling of areas in the John S. Rendleman Building, Peck Classroom Building, Lovejoy Library and Science Building will permit the areas to be used for their originally designed functions.

These areas had been utilized for various office and classroom purposes prior to the opening of General Classroom Buildings II and III.

Contracts for general, ventilation, electrical and plumbing work were awarded to the low bidders. The successful bidders and the amounts of their contracts are:

Westerheide Sheet Metal Co., East St. Louis, ventilation contract, $129,704.

Rite Electrical Co., Granite City, electrical contract, $35,613.

And Triangle Heating Co., Granite City, plumbing contract, $66,653.

The Capital Development Board has allowed a 19 per cent contingency fund amounting to $46,330 for the contracts awarded to date. Bid opening for the casework phase of the project is scheduled for Feb. 16.
